

Be prepared for the next natural disaster with your accessible-from-anywhere RallyPoint!

RallyPoint keeps you in touch with your team members via your web site no matter where their evacuation plans take them. With RallyPoint, you can post Company Updates and Important Contact Information, discuss options with your leadership team, provide Return-to-Work Instructions, post and receive Messages from your team through a private forum, upload and access files, and much more.

RallyPoint is easy for anyone with a computer to use. The RallyPoint system is linked from your web site and lies dormant until it is needed (say for a Hurricane evacuation). Should the need arise, RallyPoint goes live to become a private online communication service between your company and its staff. There is no need for emailing or complex public-forum registration. They simply go to your website, click on the RallyPoint button to access the login page, and type in their login password to access your personal RallyPoint. If your web site is down, RallyPointOnline.com provides complete access to RallyPoint services.

» RallyPoint Basic provides:

1. Access through separate Login-Id's: one for Management & one for Employees. Management can login to update "Message Center" and "Content" pages and supervise the "Forum." Employees can access and view all pages without the ability to make changes, and can post to and view Forum content.
2. A private "Forum" that provides 2-way communication for your whole team. Create specific topic strings for everyone to access, get team input on operational challenges, or post quick notices for feedback. Your Forum will keep your team together and communicating through the crisis.
3. The Message Center provides a designated area for company leaders' posting of critical news, information and contacts.
